

APOLLONIO

PRIMITIVO 'TERRAGNOLO' 2011 - PUGLIA

Primitivo is a dark-skinned grape variety typical of Puglia, the heel of the boot of Italy. It is known to be genetically related to Zinfandel.

Apollonio 'Terragnolo' Primitivo is ruby red in color. Lively notes of ripe fruit and spice on the nose which transfer to the palate sensation quite pleasantly. It is full-bodied with fine tannins and a generous long, fruity finish. Because of its bold structure, this primitivo will pair well with roasts, red meat stews, lamb dishes and parmigiana di melanzane.
