CANTINE LUNAE BOSONI COLLI DI LUNI DOC VERMENTINO 'GREY LABEL' 2015

“If you see Lunae Bosoni’s name on a label, buy the wine. This producer is consistently top-notch, whether it’s a white wine, like this Vermentino, a rosé -- their Mea Rosa is stunning -- or a red. Their Etichetta Grigia, or grey label, distinguishes it from their flagship Vermentino, which is adorned with a black label. Vermentino can certainly disappoint and you might think if they produce a flagship wine, any other Vermentino should be avoided as vapid swill. How wrong you’d be. This is a stunning little brother of a wine showing intensity and a captivating edginess. A pineapple-like spice adds another dimension. It has requisite concentration and freshness to hold up against a hearty seafood stew.” - M.A. (August 2016)

“An enticing mix of white peach, apple, white pepper and coriander notes highlights this brisk, tangy white. Shows a hint of creaminess midpalate and a lingering, minerally finish.” - B.S. (Oct 2016)
